- 1 Access to menstrual products is a matter of equality and human rights. No one should
- 2 have to forgo education, work, or leisure activities due to a lack of necessary hygiene
- 3 products. By providing free menstrual products, the world can take an important step
- 4 toward a more inclusive and equitable society.

- 5 Menstrual products are essential hygiene items used by half the population for a
- 6 significant portion of their lives. Despite this, they remain a financial burden for many, and
- 7 access is not always guaranteed. Studies show that economic barriers force some people
- 8 to go without menstrual products, which can have negative consequences for health,
- 9 school attendance, and participation in society.

- 10 Several countries have already introduced free menstrual products, such as Scotland,
- 11 where menstrual products are available at no cost to anyone who needs them. The world
- 12 should follow this example and ensure that menstrual products are free and accessible in
- 13 schools, as well as in other public spaces and stores, to reduce financial burdens and
- 14 increase access.

- 15 Based on the above we propose that:

- 16
 - IUSY calls for free menstrual products to be provided to students at all schools
- 17 and universities
